

Marlborough Boys' College 2019-21 Charter and 2019 Strategic Plan

1. Introduction

Marlborough High School opened in 1900 as a co-educational school. In 1919 the school changed its name to Marlborough College. The school roll rose from 342 in 1946 to 1205 in 1962. When the government decided to build a second secondary school in Blenheim the community voted for single sex education. The school was renamed Marlborough Boys' College in 1963 when Marlborough Girls' College was opened on its current site.

The school serves Blenheim and the surrounding Marlborough area. Marlborough is a region of great geographical diversity, and rich history. The region's economy is dominated by the wine industry.

Marlborough Boys' College is a school that has undergone major change. In recent years the school has:

- Continued to have outstanding sporting and arts successes.
- Increased its ability to identify and support students with specific learning needs.
- Raised the focus of academic achievement considerably. See <http://www.ero.govt.nz/review/reports/marlborough-boys-college-30-05-2016/#1-context> for ERO Report comments on raised achievement.
- Been supported greatly by the community in general and the PTA, Old Boys' Association and the recently created Marlborough College Charitable Foundation in particular.
- Advanced the planning towards future co-location with Marlborough Girls' College. This has included extensive consultation leading to the development of a Co-location Education Brief to guide the co-location process. Visit www.marlboroughcolleges.co.nz for further information. Consultation confirmed the community preference for single-sex education. The existence of the two schools on 1 site and sharing some facilities will provide elements of what proponents of both single sex and co-education deem as important.

Marlborough Boys' College acknowledges its obligation and is committed to:

1. Fulfilling all the requirements set out in the National Education Goals.
2. Administering the school according to the National Administration Guidelines.
3. Delivering the curriculum to all students in a balanced programme as outlined in the National Curriculum document.
4. Developing, for the school, policies and practices that reflect New Zealand's cultural diversity and the unique position of the Māori culture.
 - At Marlborough Boys' College we endeavour to be proactive in fostering cultural understanding consistent with the Treaty of Waitangi – to honour the concepts of protection, participation and partnership.
 - Students can choose to study Te Reo Māori in full year programmes.
 - Curriculum has been developed to support “Māori to achieve as Māori.” The Te Waharoa course is an example.
 - Since 2017 all year 9 students' study for 1 term Te Reo/Tikanga as part of their compulsory curriculum.
 - Providing professional development with a focus on teaching and learning that has a culturally responsive and relational focus.
 - All staff and students are exposed to opportunities to experience Tikanga Māori (Māori protocol and culture). Tikanga Māori is part of MBC culture – “what we do around here”. For example, powhiri for new students and staff at the start of the year, blessing of new buildings, signage in Māori, displays of Māori art work and haka as part of school Prizegivings and beginning of sporting events.

Steps taken to discover the views and concerns of the school's Māori community

- A Māori parent was co-opted as a Board of Trustees member in May 2016. Another Māori parent was elected on the Board in December 2017.
- Communication with Māori occurs on top of existing school processes through Whānau hui and formal and informal meetings with representatives of local iwi.
- The new schools project has provided a focus which will be a catalyst for further consultation with iwi.

3. Values Statement

Young Men of Marlborough strive to be:

- Respectful
- Responsible
- Involved
- Proud
- The best that they can be.

4. Vision Statement

To inspire and empower our learning community to be the best they can be.

Co-Location Vision Statement

Embracing opportunities for our community of learners.

Kia whai hua mō tō tātou hapori ākongā

5. Strategic/Charter Goals 2019 - 21

- a) To provide a safe and positive learning environment for all stakeholders with a focus on the promotion of school values especially pride and respect.
- b) To raise academic expectations and achievement for all; with a focus on priority learners including Māori, Pasifika and students with special education needs.
- c) To increase opportunities and participation in the Arts, Sport and Leadership/Service.
- d) To plan for a seamless transfer to a new site with inspirational learning programmes complementing state of art facilities that recognise both our long history and bicultural and multicultural facets of our school.

Review of Charter and Consultation

The Board of Trustees undertook extensive consultation in 2011 and 2012 that resulted in a new Mission Statement, Values, Vision Statement and Strategic/Charter Goals.

Revisions have been made to the Strategic/Charter goals since then. Significant consultation has taken place since 2013 on the nature and siting of secondary education in Marlborough. Goal d) was introduced in 2016 and reflects the outcomes of deliberations on the schools' future siting and character.

Consultation by the Board in 2014 and 2015 resulted in Goal c) and consolidation of specific focus areas and greater strategic planning and financial support to identified planned projects in these areas (see page 4).

Following a Ministry of Education facilitated review of the Charter in 2016 reporting on some of the then current goals ceased in 2017 as they were regarded as "business as usual" – policies and procedures where now in place for them to be ongoing.

The Vision statement following 2018 consultation was changed. The co-location vision statement was also added to the charter in 2018.

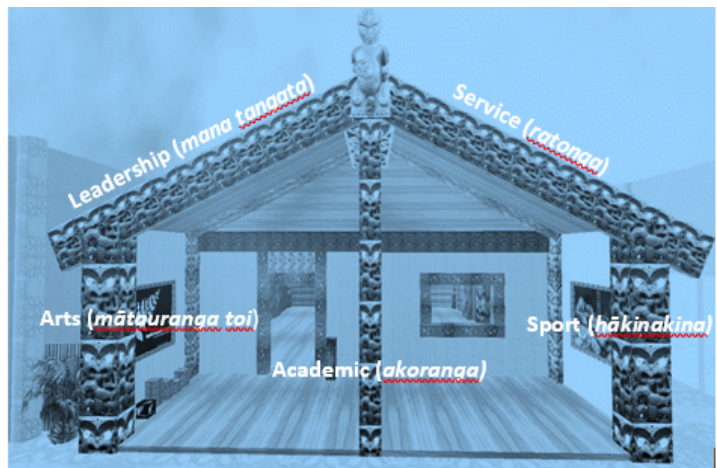

Marlborough Boys' College 2019-21 Strategic Planning Focus

"To inspire and empower our learning community to be the best they can be"

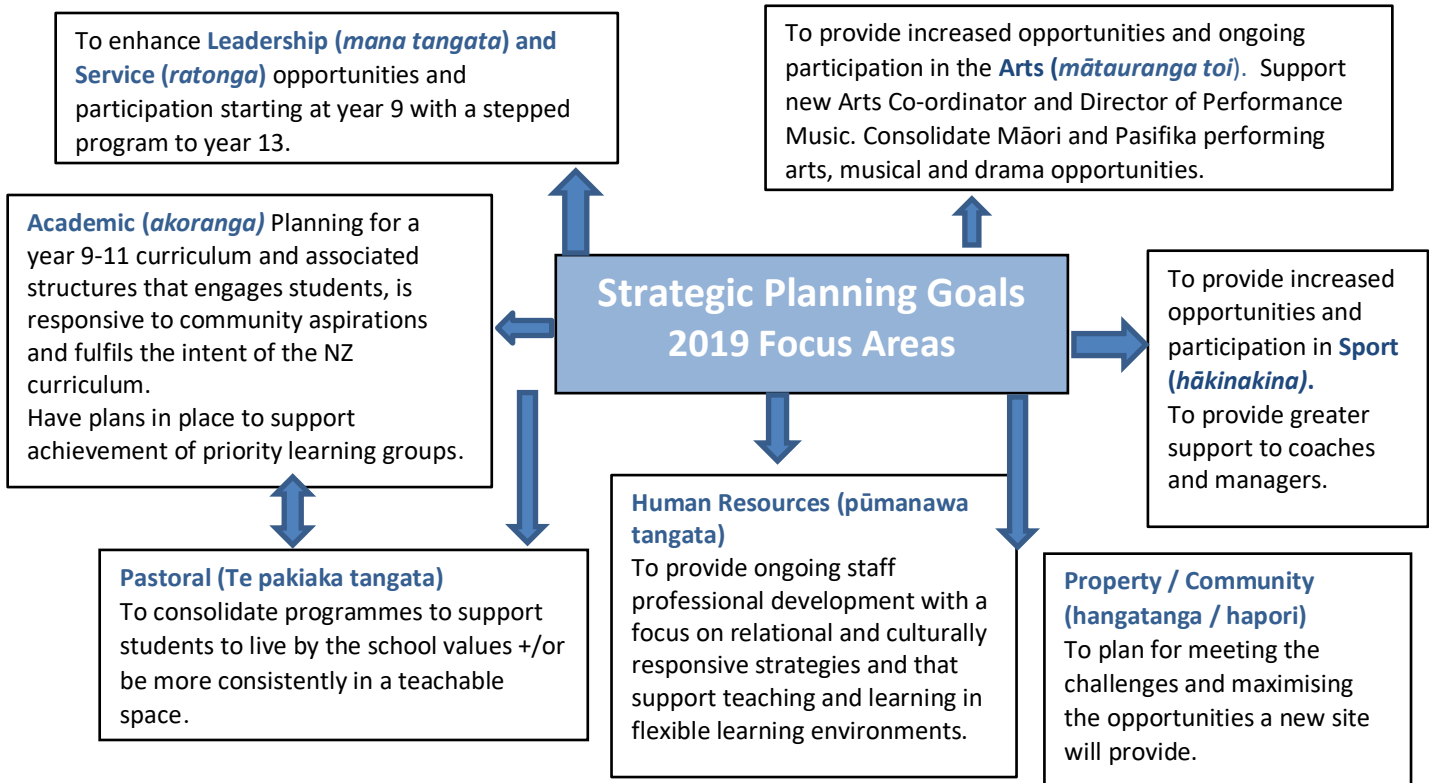

- Respectful

Identified Focus Areas

Finance	Human Resources	Information technology	Property	Pastoral	Community
---------	-----------------	------------------------	----------	----------	-----------

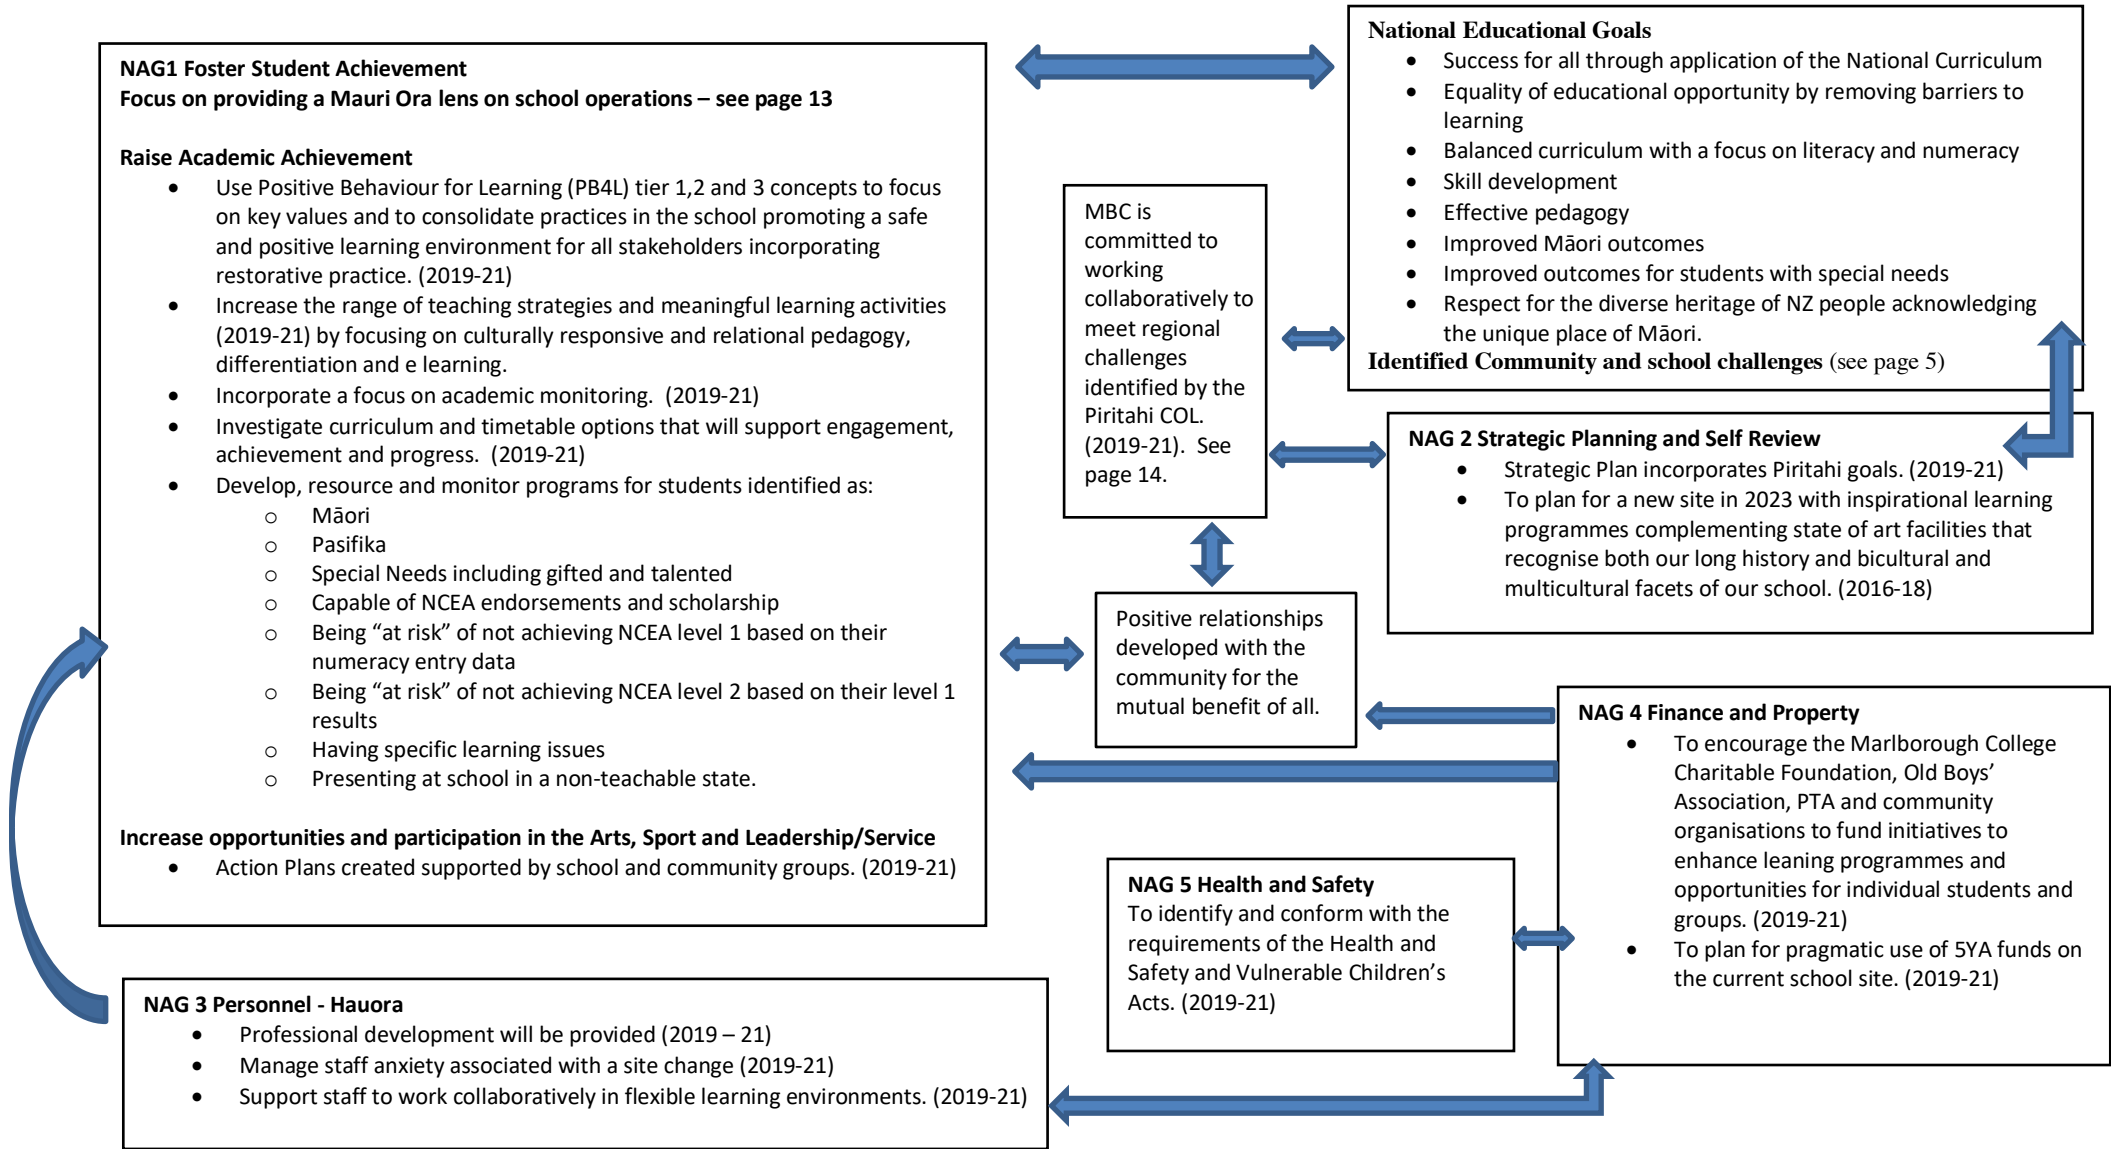

Our 2019-21 Goals are in response to the following identified challenges/aspirations

- 1) We exist to serve our community. Community consultation in 2017 resulted in the following aspiration areas:
 - Identity Tuakiri - our students are aware of who they are, their culture, their heritage and their future – on a local and a global scale.
 - Personal management Rangatiratanga - our students have the resilience, tenacity, adaptability and confidence to succeed in anything they set out to achieve.
 - Creativity & innovation Auahatanga - our students apply creative and innovative thinking to their work, providing them with a solid foundation for future problem solving.
 - Student-centred learning Ako Arotahinga - we're creating a learning environment where students are inspired and supported to be the best they can be.
 - Effective relationships WhakaWhānaungatanga - through collaborative learning approaches, our students build strong relationships that help them to work and achieve together.
 - Sustainability Kaitiakitanga - our students understand and apply sustainable approaches to everything they do.
- 2) As a school we continue to focus on providing opportunities for our students to develop as well-rounded men that as a community we can be proud of. We do this by encouraging students to take opportunities offered for them to “be the best they can be” academically, in the arts, in sport and in leadership and/or service – we refer to these as our pillars – see diagram page 4.
- 3) To prepare students for their desired future by ensuring they have the qualifications for the next steps in their lives by building on a “schools within schools” concept catering equally for students aspiring for merit, excellent and scholarship passes to gain access to university programmes and for those with other educational or vocational aspirations.
- 4) To continue to support priority learning groups in the school – Māori, Pasifika and students with special needs including GATE. To put a Mauri-ora lens over all activities in the school - see p 13.
- 5) To consolidate a momentum of increased academic achievement while supporting more students with specific learning needs.
- 6) To plan for a year 9-11 curriculum and associated structures that engages young men, fulfils the intent of the NZ curriculum and is responsive to the community aspirations above.
- 7) To support staff to embrace the challenges and opportunities of teaching in flexible learning environments. This includes a review of what and how we teach/learn, the most appropriate timetable to support this and a review of how we assess and report to families/whānau/fono.

Ako: critical contexts for change

Cultural relationships:

- care for learners and their learning
- recognise prior knowledge as foundational to identity and learning
- focus on potential.

Responsive pedagogy:

- begins with the learners' experiences
- involves the interactive, dialogic construction of knowledge
- requires power-sharing so learners and teachers make sense together.

The professionals in the school (leaders and teachers) implement curriculum, policies and practices that are:

- purposefully developed to promote equity, excellence and belonging for all students
- responsive and appropriate to local contexts
- grounded in research about what we know works to support students'
 - strong and secure cultural identities
 - learning and achieving for the future
- reviewed in response to evidence and feedback on how their actions are affecting students and whānau.

Research shows collaborations between home, school and community have large positive effects on student outcomes:

- this is challenging when the culture of the school is not representative of all families
- reciprocal power-sharing relationships are key.

In comprehensive school reform, these contexts are driven by the key levers of critical leadership, evidence-informed decision-making and prioritised learning outcomes.
